silent letters

There are many last consonant silent letters in French. The final letter 's' is silent in the word 'Palais' and 'épouses'.

vocabulary

As this is a unit that explores language learning strategies, there is more vocabulary than in other units. Not all will be learnt from memory but there will be core conjunctions revisited and a few key structures like:

et

and

mais

but

Elle était...

She was

grammar

To start to understand better the role of verbs, adjectives and nouns in a sentence.

Catherine d'Aragon était très religieuse et catholique.

Catherine of Aragon was very religious and Catholic.

Catherine d'Aragon = noun

était = verb

religieuse/catholique = adjectives

What I will learn:

- Objective 1: I will listen attentively to a longer piece of French and learn how to decode language by looking out for cognates.
- Objective 2: I will learn to decode a French text by looking out for verbs, adjectives and nouns.
- Objective 3: I will learn to find particular words in longer texts based on the key facts of Henry VIII and his 6 wives in French.
- Objective 4: I will revise and consolidate the language and text from last week, completing a true/false activity on Henry's wives.
- Objective 5: I will demonstrate my new knowledge with a storyboard and a presentation to the class.
