

Key vocabulary
Senses	Our senses are what we use to find out about the world around us. They are: sight, hearing, smell, touch and taste .
Texture	How something feels. We use words like: soft, hard, smooth, rough, bumpy and spongy to describe texture.

I know the features of my face.
I can name parts of my body.

I can name the 5 senses. I can use my 5 senses.
I know which part of my body is used for each of the 5 senses.

I can sort objects by texture.
I can describe textures.
I can explore textures in an outdoor environment.

- Home Learning:
- Try a new food, e.g. a different fruit. Before you taste it, explore it with all your other senses. What does it feel like on your fingers? What does it look like? What does it smell like? Does it make any noise or can you make it make any noise?
 - Go on a texture hunt around your house. How many different textured objects can you find? Try to think of lots of words to describe the textures.
 - Draw a picture of yourself and try to include as many features as you can. Tell someone the names of all the parts of the body you know or ask someone what they are called if you don't know.

