This policy applies to all staff employed by the Symphony Learning Trust. Throughout this policy, unless indicated otherwise, all references to 'Head Teacher' include the Executive Head Teacher.

Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to ensure that all employees achieve and maintain satisfactory standards of conduct and behaviour. It also provides a fair and consistent method of dealing with alleged failures to observe these standards.

Safeguarding

Any allegations of misconduct that involve potential safeguarding issues will be dealt with in accordance with "Keeping Children Safe in Education – statutory guidance for Schools and Colleges". If an allegation is in any way connected to the safeguarding of children then a referral will be made to the Disclosure & Barring Service (DBS) at the appropriate point in the process and in addition, to the National College for Teaching and Leadership (NCTL) (for teaching staff). Information provided by the Policy or other agencies (e.g. investigation outcome, statements) will be shared with the employee, unless specifically advised otherwise, particularly if this information will form part of the management case at a subsequent disciplinary hearing.

Investigating Officer

When allegations of misconduct are made, an appropriate person, the "Investigating Officer", will be appointed to investigate the allegations and decide whether there is sufficient evidence to take disciplinary action. The Head Teacher will only be the Investigating Officer in circumstances where they will not be given delegated responsibility for making any decisions about a potential dismissal or other sanction.

Initial Discussion

In cases of misconduct (see Appendix A), the appropriate manager will make initial enquiries about the incident/concern. The purpose of this discussion is to ascertain the employee's immediate response to the concern(s) and to establish the facts in order to determine whether any further action (e.g. further investigation or suspension) is required. It is important to note that this meeting is not a Formal Investigatory Meeting, but a detailed conversation regarding the concern(s).

The potential outcomes of the meeting are:

- No further action is necessary;
- Deal with the matter informally (i.e. good practice discussion / expectation letter, mediation, training);
- Refer the matter to a Formal Investigatory Meeting (possibly including suspension of the employee).

In cases where gross misconduct (see Appendix B) is alleged, the manager may bypass the initial discussion meeting and progress directly to a Formal Investigatory Meeting.

Suspension

Suspension is not a disciplinary penalty and is regarded as a neutral act. It will not pre-determine in any way the outcome of any investigation. Employees may be suspended at any stage during the investigation process; the duration of suspension will be kept to a minimum.

Suspension will only be considered if there are concerns about the employee remaining in the work place and will be kept under regular review. The reason for the suspension (i.e. due to the seriousness of the concerns) will be made clear to the employee and confirmed in writing.

Formal Investigatory Meeting

No formal disciplinary action will be taken until the matter has been fully investigated which includes the employee attending a Formal Investigatory Meeting. Before meeting with the employee the Investigating Officer should be clear on the terms of reference, make enquiries regarding the concerns, which may include interviewing witnesses, and present evidence to the employee at the Formal Investigatory Meeting.

At least five working days will be given for this meeting and employee has the right to be accompanied by a work colleague or Trade Union representative. The letter will outline the nature of the concerns (e.g. serious concerns regarding your conduct). Notes will be taken at this meeting and a copy sent to the employee for agreement.

At the meeting the Investigating Officer will:

- Make clear to the employee what concerns have been raised;
- Ask the employee to respond to the concern(s) against them;
- Warn the employee that the matter may result in a formal disciplinary hearing at which they will have the right to be accompanied by a work colleague or Trade Union representative;
- Interview / obtain signed statements from witnesses following the employee's evidence (if applicable).

The employee will:

- Respond to the allegations / questions;
- Produce evidence that supports their position;
- Provide the names of witnesses (if applicable).

The Investigating Officer will collect all of the evidence and consider whether there is a case to answer. The potential outcomes of the investigation are:

- No further action is necessary;
- Deal with the matter informally (i.e. good practice discussion / expectation letter, mediation, training);
- Refer the matter to a Formal Disciplinary Hearing (possibly including suspension of the employee).

Disciplinary Hearing

At least five working days' notice will be given to attend a formal hearing, in which the employee will be informed of the reasons for the hearing and their right to be accompanied by a work colleague or Trade Union representative. If applicable, the letter will state that a potential outcome of the hearing is dismissal. Employees will also receive copies of any relevant documentation that will be used as evidence. Employees will be given an opportunity to provide evidence. Notes will be taken at the hearing and a copy sent to the employee.

The following outcomes are available to the panel or delegated person, dependent on the seriousness of the offence:

- No further formal action is necessary;
- First written warning (which will remain on file for 6 months);
- Final written warning (which will remain on file for 12 months);
- Dismissal (with or without notice).

Employees will be dismissed with notice except in the case of gross misconduct. In the case of gross misconduct, the employee will be summarily dismissed with no notice.

The employee will be notified in writing of the outcome of the hearing. If the outcome is dismissal, the letter will include the reason for the dismissal and the date this is effective from. The letter will also include details of the employee's right to appeal.

Dismissal

Once the panel or delegated person has decided that the employee will be dismissed, this will be confirmed in writing to the employee including the date employment will be terminated. The panel will also confirm whether the dismissal is with notice or, in the case of gross misconduct, without notice.

Right of Appeal

Individuals will have the right to appeal the decision: appeals are to be made in accordance with the Appeals Procedure of the Symphony Learning Trust.

Case Referral

Where a Teacher / Head Teacher is dismissed for misconduct or resigns prior to the completion of the disciplinary process, the Investigating Officer or panel/delegated person may consider making the appropriate referral to the National College for Teaching and Leadership (NCTL) in accordance with the NCTL's "Teachers Misconduct: Disciplinary procedures for the teaching profession" document (April 2016) which sets out the procedures for the regulatory systems relating to teacher misconduct.

The Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS)

If the allegation against any member of staff is in any way connected to the safeguarding of children, a referral will be made to the Disclosure & Barring Service (DBS).

If misconduct and safeguarding are both involved, a referral will be made to both the DBS and the DfE.

Appendix A – Examples of Misconduct

The following list is not exhaustive but gives examples of offences which may amount to misconduct:

- Persistent bad time-keeping;
- Unauthorised absence from work;
- Failure to follow reporting procedures;
- Damage to academy property;
- Failure to follow policies and procedures;
- Abusive or disruptive behaviour;
- Minor breaches of Health and Safety regulations;
